

Permission to Use The Farmer's Toolbox: A Guide To Accessing USDA Programs

The Rural Coalition and its members developed this Farmer's Toolbox for the exclusive benefit of socially disadvantaged, and other small farmers and ranchers, with major federal support from USDA's Risk Management Agency Civil Rights and Community Outreach Program, Natural Resources Conservation Service, National Agricultural Statistics Service, and the Cooperative State Research, Education, and Extension Service. Under the partnership agreement between the Rural Coalition and the USDA, this manual is the property of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC). The FCIC has granted the Rural Coalition a permanent license to distribute these materials for non-commercial, educational, and governmental purposes only.

Under this agreement, the Rural Coalition is granting permission to you and/or your organization to reproduce and utilize The Farmer's Toolbox: A Guide To Accessing USDA Programs as follows. The manual may only be reproduced for the training of farmers and ranchers, or for related educational purposes. Users agree to provide credit to the producers of these materials, and agree that the materials will not be incorporated into other materials or sold, nor farmers charged any fees, for training using The Farmer's Toolbox: A Guide To Accessing USDA Programs. Access to any training using these materials must be granted without regard to race, gender, religion, or sexual orientation.

Please initial in each box below, signifying your agreement to each clause, and sign the bottom. Return this form to the Rural Coalition by mail or fax.
